Executive summary

Aman Johal is an associate lawyer at Gardiner Roberts LLP whose practice focuses on estate litigation, estate planning, estate administration, and related tax matters. Her work encompasses contentious estate disputes, succession and wealth transfer planning, and the legal and financial complexities of estate administration.

With a Bachelor of Commerce and prior experience at the Big Four, Aman brings a commercial perspective to her practice. Known for her direct communication style and practical approach to problem-solving, she focuses on cutting through complexity, identifying what matters, and finding effective solutions.

Aman earned her JD from Toronto Metropolitan University's Lincoln Alexander School of Law, where she received the Staffieri Family Scholarship from 2022-2024, for academic excellence and leadership. She also earned recognition in advocacy and negotiation competitions.

Aman began her career at Gardiner Roberts as a summer and articling student before joining the firm as an associate in 2026.
